Supporting Evidence: On May 21, 2016, the offender was arrested by the Grand Coulee Police Department on charges of driving while under the influence (gross misdemeanor) and disorderly conduct-attempt to elude (Class C Felony). The incident report states that on May 21, 2016, a Grand Coulee police officer had begun to follow the offender's vehicle due to the vehicle traveling at a speed higher than the posted limit. The officer notes that once he was able to catch up to the vehicle, he discovered the offender had crashed his vehicle into a rock face cliff. At that time, the officer activated his overhead lights and the suspect began to flee the area. The officer gave the offender a verbal command to stop, but the offender continued to flee. The report states the offender fled to, and hid in, an area near the Grand Coulee Dam, and that Grand Coulee Plant Protection staff assisted in the search. The offender's location was discovered by Grand Coulee Plant Protection through the use of night vision cameras. Grand Coulee Plant Protection guided the officer to the offender's location. The officer drew his pistol, identified himself, and gave commands. He then navigated down a cliff and the offender was apprehended.
